

What's the big idea?

There are loads of ways to raise funds for charity. Whether it's inspiration or perspiration you're after, and whether you're a class or you want to fill your lunch-time with something different, here's our top ideas to help to get you started...

A Active

Roise, Maia, Imogen and Martha raised £372 for the Haiti Earthquake Appeal by space hopping their way through Wimbledon Common! Why not do the same on the playing field?

C Traditional Cake Sale -

A timeless classic that never fails... Why not put up a stall outside the lunch hall or take a trip round your local churches, youth groups and community centres. Make your icing fluffy and you'll never go wrong...

D Dancing - If you enjoy moving to the beat then there's a whole array of ways you can boogie for poverty. Barn Dance, Silent Disco, Under-18s night, Ball or Break-Dance.

E Enterprise - Put your 'Junior Apprentice' skills into action! Work in teams and ask your teacher to give you a small amount of money each. Your challenge is to use this money to make even more!

F Fashion Show

L Laugh

Organise a 'comedy lunchtime' in your school. Get the funniest people you know to stand up and crack a few jokes. Ask for donations.

M Music Events

Organising a gig or concert can be great fun. Act like a Music Agent or Scout and pick some of the local talent. Get a bit of rivalry going between friends and put on a Battle of the Bands or an Orchestral Olympics after school.

M Make

Have you got a talent for making something like jewellery, badges or greetings cards? Ask your teacher if you can organise an after-school stall.

N No Mess!

Get sponsored for picking up playground litter, clearing up your classroom or removing rubbish.

Q Quiet!

Give your teachers a break and hold a sponsored silence.

R Race - There's nothing wrong with a bit of friendly competition. Why not hold a parents versus teachers race?

T Talent Show

- City and Islington College raised £2,547 at theirs!

V Valet

Get out your bucket and sponge and offer to clean your teachers' cars in return for a donation.

X Xbox - Can you give up something you love but your parents don't? For a day, week, month? Your parents will probably be very pleased to sponsor you!

Z Zany Dress Up Day

- Pay a pound and come to school dressed as something crazy!!
