Context

Are you passionate about making a real difference?

As part of the global ActionAid family, we are helping to build a fair and just world where everyone can claim their rights. To achieve this we work with local people in more than 45 countries to fight hunger and disease, seek justice and education for women, hold companies and governments to account and help communities cope with emergencies.

In the UK our role is to raise funds to carry out programme work internationally, to motivate and engage our supporters and the general public and to campaign for change. We are a value driven, forward thinking organisation, focused on achieving long-term change through supporting our partners to make a sustainable difference.

The Major Gift Team is part of ActionAid UK's Fundraising Department which has 70 staff located on two sites, in London and Chard. The fundraising programme currently generates £50 million from voluntary sources. Our fundraising goals are to attract long term support to provide stable and predictable income through committed gifts, strategic funding partnerships and by providing the best possible supporter experience.

ActionAid was the first UK charity to introduce child sponsorship and we continue to develop this as one of our core products along with other ways of attracting committed gifts.

The Major Gift team is tasked with raising funds from high net-worth individuals, trusts/foundations and companies. Our focus is on those donors with the ability to make five, six and seven figure gifts and grants. This new post has been created as part of a restructure of the team that is aimed at increasing our capacity to harvest substantial gifts and to deliver ambitious income growth to support ActionAid's work.

Main purpose of the role

To initiate and build relationships with trusts and foundations to secure their financial support of ActionAid. This new role will manage relationships with a portfolio of existing and prospective grantmaking trusts that are able to make grants of £50,000 or more, with a particular focus on six figure grants and on multi-year funding agreements.

This role will have a particular focus on bringing in new business for ActionAid, from corporate trusts and from those trusts where it is more difficult to influence grant decision making.

Trusts and foundations are also currently managed by:

1. Senior Major Gift Managers – who manage a small number of family trusts/foundations

- where there is an existing relationship and/or where grant decision making is usually driven by one or more family trustees who are spending money that they have earned.
2. Programme Funding Officers – who manage a small number of larger trusts/foundations that have professional staff, operate rigorous grant guidelines and where there is complex grant management and/or programme development (i.e. funding additional work that was not originally budgeted/planned).

A key dimension to this role will involve the management of these boundaries and being involved in decision making (with the Head of Major Gifts and Head of Programme Funding) on which trusts/foundations should be managed by whom.
