

Students attend science lessons at their school in rural Zimbabwe, where poor funding and climate emergencies are pushing girls out of school. Too often they're expected to plug gaps in a failed system. They walk further for water when droughts hit, and are given more caring duties than boys. ActionAid is working with girls who are challenging injustice, changing attitudes and claiming their rights to equal education.

act:onaid

RUN FOR RIGHTS